2.2 Gantt chart

In Figure 2.2 the Gantt chart represents the time line and the tasks ,in the Gantt chart we show 6 main tasks with their subtasks westart with the introduction which includes the problem statement,research strategy, and scope then in the second task is the Literature Review and it will have related work as well as it will have a lot of information and research, after that we have the methodology that will have the feasibility study and the methodology process, after it we have the model design which contains the context diagram, data flow diagram, case diagram, ER diagram and the relational model, afterwards we will have the experiment and the results which will have the testing and its methodologies as well as the discussion on the project and the evaluation of the project, lastly we will have conclusion and future work which will have the conclusion of the research and project and the future work will mention how and where can we improve and which areas can we improve on in the project.

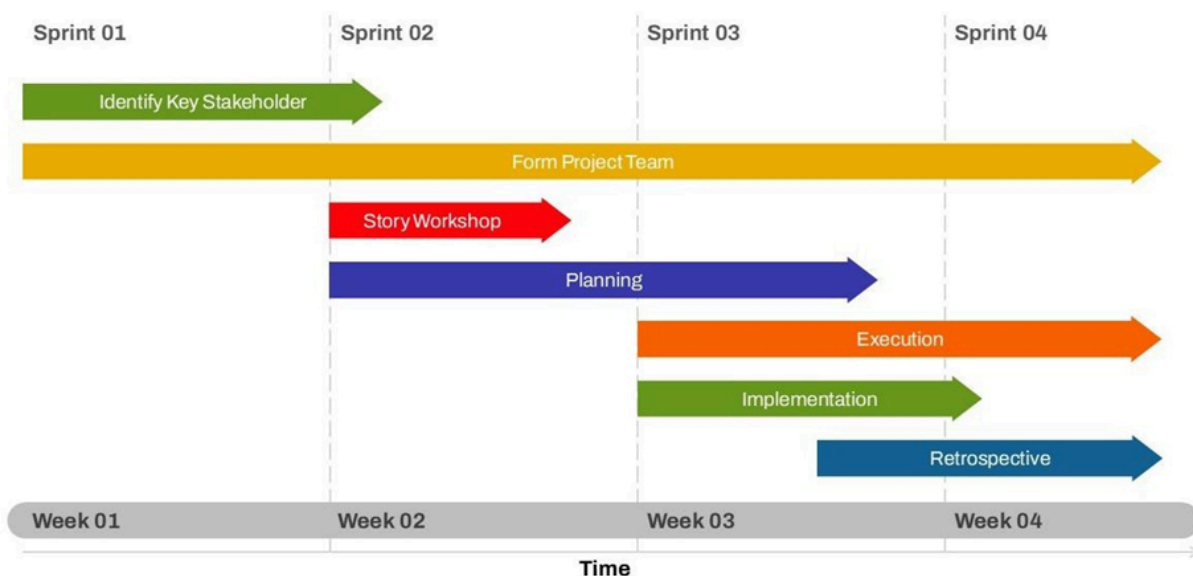

Figure 2.2: Gantt chart for Lost and found board